Dear Friend,

Thank you! We will put your gift to work right away where it's needed most. Your gift to the Universal Fund allows us to be nimble and respond to mission needs in real time.

You are bringing inspiration to students who are craving it, educating people across the globe about the importance of space endeavors, connecting people from every type of background to something universal, and advocating for the advancement of space technology and exploration. Successfully executing our mission wouldn't be possible without support from donors like you. You are the fuel that keeps us launching higher.

With sincerest thanks,
